Lisbon, Feb. 3.—Premier Franco has relinquished power and a new cabinet has been formed, with Admiral Ferriera De Armaral as its president in place of the late dictator. Franco. This step signalizes the practical withdrawal of Franco, who was responsible for the fateful uprising. Franco agreed to this measure as the only one calculated to pacify hostile public opinion at a time when only a spark is needed to inflame the whole country and hurl it headlong into a bloody revolution. It is nevertheless believed that Franco will still be the "man of power," although his official preragatives are at least shorn of any real authority. The opening session of the new council was held today. King Manuel appeared before his ministers and in voice vibrant with emotion said:

This ruling was made because many applications have been made the past few days to the secretary of state for licenses by automobile owners who took out licenses a year ago when the law went into effect and who are under the impression that it was an annual license.

The legislature may have intended it to be an annual tax on the owners of bubble wagons, but if it did intend | dred patients were present and Thaw such a tax, the law is so worded that no other construction than the one placed upon it by the secretary can do not attend the Sunday religious pole, to which was attached a string be construed from it.

VALUE CF WOOD ASHES.

They Will Give Rich Returns If Ap plied to Fruit Trees.

Where wood is burned save the ashes. They are too valuable to be thrown aside with those from the coal fires. Ashes left from burning brush, etc.; even when in small quantity, should also be utilized, as the potash in them is a splendid fertilizer for fruit trees. I distribute wood ashes under peach trees during the winter as fast as they accumulate sometimes spreading them on top of snow. The result on the trees and fruit is marked.

Wood ashes will have a tendency to overcome, with apple trees, the off year in bearing. When spreading ashes remember that the roots of a tree extend for some distance; therefore do not put them too near the trunk, but scatter them about at some little distance, depending upon the size and shape of the tree.

American Apples.

America is the greatest apple grower of the world. Europe produces many apples, and so do the other continents. Even Australia and New Zealand are producing and exporting apples; but in no part of the world have the people paid so much attention to apples as they have in the United States. The first settlers brought apples with them from Europe and they seem to have had a mania for sticking down the seeds everywhere. There is probably no state in the union in which apples are not raised. They do best in the colder parts of the country, where they are found in greater abundance.

> LOST SOUTH SEAS CONTINENT Australian Professor Seeks Solution of Ancient Mystery.

The lost continent of the South seas is a pet study of Dr. Woolnough of Sydney university. The main difficulty in the way of reconciling existing conditions with an original great area was that depths of 2,000 fathoms occurred between the islands. It was necessary to look for land evidence of the submarine depths. The granite area in Viti Leva was found to be from 400 to 600 square miles in exex- rocks. A range of granite mountains gave evidence of heavy faults creating chasms of great depth. He found the rivers forming a marked rectangular network, an upraised coral reef 200 feet above the sea level, conglomerate rock showing sea shells at a height of 800 feet above the sea, and certain tilts and tufts which had formerly been submarine and now at a height of 4,500 feet. All these indicated a tremendous uplift sufficient to cause greater faulting in the original continent. The rivers of Fiji were of comparatively youthful development, and even at present passing through the canon cycle.

Ohio Maintains Its Position as the Leading State of the Union in the Production of All Kind: of Pottery.

Columbus, O., Feb. 3.—The twenty-second national convention of the American Ceramic society and the National Paving Brick Manufactur ers' association opened nere today for a session of one week. Although the two organizations are separate and hold separate meetings, they ennually meet in the same city at the same time.

During the week the Ohio School for Clayworkers, in charge of Prof. Orton, of the Ohio State University will keep open house. Demonstra tions of advances made by the school since it was organized will be made for the benefit of the visiting brick manufacturers.

Columbus was selected as ceting place because of the fact that it is the capital of the clayworking state of the Union. The government statistical chart, just ssued, shows that Ohio maintains its position as the leading state in the Union in the production of pottery, brick, tiling pipe and all other clay products, turning out annually more Hoped to Secure the Services of Julio Gatti-Casezza, Director General of Milan, Italy, as Conreid's Successor.

New York, Feb. 3.-Herr Conreid. America's opera king, will soon be forced to abdicate his throne, as the result of a meeting to be held by the directors of the Metropolitan opera house this week. J. Pierpont Morgan is said to be the leader in the movement to force the retirement of Conreid: to the day with set of a street a

At this week's meeting a million dollar fund will be subscribed to provide for the financial success of the next season. It is hoped to secure the sevices of Julio Gatti-Casazza, direc tor general of La Scala opera house at Milan, Italy, as Conreid's successor. It has been decided to offer the famous Italian impressario five times the salary he now receives from the Italian government, if necessary, to induce him to come to America.

It has been known for some time that the Metropolitan directors have been dissatisfied with Herr Conreid, who has been director general for six years. This dissatisfaction was added to this season by Oscar Hammerstein's success in securing such stars as Mme. Tetrazini, Miss Mary Garden and others. "Next year the Metropolitan will be run distinctly from an artistic standpoint. There will be no sharing of profits. The new director to be chosen will work on a stipulated salary. The best talent will be secured. no matter what the cost may be.

"Mr. Conreid is in wretched health and is not in a position to be active in such an enormous enterprise as he should be. He has explained his failures satisfactorily. He had Mme. Tetrazini under contract, he says, and she broke it. You must bear in mind that Mme. Tetrazini is closely related to Signor Campanini, the director of Mr. Hammerstein's house. That may explain things. Then, Mr. Conreid did not feel that is was necessary for him to have two colorature sopranos. Mme. The National Dried Fruit Brokers' Wholesale of the most distressing cases, and is sold association, the National Grocers' association and ning Machinery and Supplies associa- and one-dollar size tion are also represented.

The latter organization today opened a public exhibition in Music hall. where canning machinery is shown in full operation.

Today was devoted to the reception of the delegates to the convention at the headquarters, Hotel Sinton. The formal opening of the convention will be held tomorrow morning, when Mayor Leopold Markbreit will deliver ar address of welcome.

The attendance during the week promises to be the largest on record at a meeting of this kind, because of the importance of the various subjects up for consideration. These have to do in part with the food law questions at issue between packers and jobbing grocers, and the probable effect of the financial situation on the business of food packing.

Delegates to the convention report that the canning industry is sound and strong. Stocks of canned goods packers', hands are very small. All the prophets are predicting a close clean-up of all lines, with the possible exception of tomatoes. It is con ceded that there was an unusually large tomato pack last year and that it may be impossible to dispose of the stock before the 1903 pack appears on the market.

Many cities have been mentioned for next year's convention of the canners, among them Baltimore, Kansas City, Boston and Louisville. It is probable that the convention will be asked to name the city in which No. Arr. the 1909 meeting is to be held.

UNCLE SAM IN ROLE OF CUPID. Forced to Act as Matrimonial*Agent in the Philippines.

One of the little details that fall to the Philippine government is that of finding husbands for the orphan girls of the institution, bearing the name of the Hospicio de San Jose, and to do this is no easy matter. Before the Filipino will consent to go to the altar he has to be shown a monetary advantage-in fact, a bride without a dowry wouldn't get a husband in a thousand years. Uncle Sam's agents, after wondering why there was such dearth of bridegrooms for their pretty charges of the Hospicio, finally discovered that in order to marry them off dowries would have to be found. As the result a matrimonial brokerage commission has been formed. Through diamond medals of considerable value this, $150 is offered to any young Filipino of good character who will take one of the orphan maids as his life mate, but no bargain is closed until after official cupids have thoroughly examined into the history of the husband-to-be.
